Only one more meeting before the Assembly. Ladies, let us have a full attendance that we may take care of the work in hand.

MEMBER.

Elsewhere is reproduced from the St. Louis Republic an article telling of the pensioning by Andrew Carnegie, the steel king, of Rev. Dr. Jos. H. Foy, of St. Louis. (Local interest attaches thereto because of the fact that nearly thirty years ago Dr. Foy was pastor of St. Paul's church, Ironton, and, according to our notion, a better aorabler man, never filled a pulpit in the valley.

Quite a large crowd attended the ball game between the Nebraska Indians and a local team Tuesday afternoon. The score was 5 to 2 in the visitors' favor. Some of the fans who witnessed the game, however, tell us that it was apparent that the Indians didn't want to beat the home team too badly, and had they done their very best might possibly have scored another run or two. But the weather was too hot.

Married—At the home of the bride's parents, Ironton, Mo., Saturday, June 6, 1914, Dr. Carroll McGhee, Fornefelt, Mo., and Lora M. Bishop, Rev. Geo. W. Wise officiating. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bishop. Mr. McGhee was formerly a resident of Iron county, living at Bellevue, and is a brother of Oscar McGhee, who at one time had charge of the Pilot Knob public schools. The REGISTER wishes them every happiness.

MARRIED—At Ironton, Mo., Wednesday, June 3, 1914, L. Arthur LaPlante of Arcadia to Miss Clara Marie White, of this city. Rev. M. N. Powers officiating. The REGISTER extends its best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. LaPlante. May the new life which they have happily begun be long drawn out, and each succeeding year add again to their felicity. The groom is worthy the gods' good gifts and the bride has the esteem and good-will of all who know her.

Our village blacksmith, Mr. Chas. F. Hanson, Sunday donned his "best bib and tucker," and hid himself to Poplar Bluff, where he will spend a few days at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. B. Polak, who lives in the town on the banks of the raging Black. Now we've known Charlie Hanson thirty years or more and never before has he been guilty of such reckless conduct as taking a lay-off or vacation. But if he doesn't stay too long we suppose we will have to overlook his remissness this time.

From the Citizen, published in Mission, Texas "Friday night last, for the benefit of the Civic League, Manager Hamaon of the Electric Theater gave a special performance in addition to his regular show. There were songs by several Mission folks, but the hit of the show was the acting of the Miller children who sang 'Alabama.' [Those who attended report that their song was really a delightful little bit of acting and the piece alone well worth the price of admission.] The Miller children here referred to are grandchildren of our old friend, Mr. O. C. Morris, of Des Arc.

Several negro hood carriers from St. Louis arrived here last Wednesday, intending to work on the new school building, but "the boys" read the "riot act" to them and they promptly returned to St. Louis. "No negroes allowed" is the unwritten law here.—Bismarck Gazette.

Mrs. C. D. Alexander was summoned to Reynolds county a week ago last Saturday by the announcement that her brother, Wade Hampton, had been seriously injured in a wreck on the Missouri Southern Railroad. The following account of the accident is taken from the last issue of the Ellington Press: "In a wreck that occurred just north of Fruit City last Saturday Wade Hampton had an arm broken and Bob Harris was badly injured in the feet and legs. Harris and Hampton, brakemen, were both on top of a freight car that jumped the track. When the front trucks left the rail the car turned over, throwing the two men out against a pile of ties on the right-of-way. The engine was immediately detached and sent here for medical assistance. After Dr. Chilton had dressed their wounds they were brought here where they remained until the next day when they were sent on to their homes at Ruble and Garwood. At last reports they were getting along nicely."

Sheriff Sharp last Friday threw the locally notorious Shrum woman in jail and then went to Monroe City and returned Tuesday with young Umfleet who with the woman is charged by Sharp with burning the Madison Hotel here a few years ago. We are informed that with Umfleet's arrest a number of letters were found from the Shrum woman which are very valuable as evidence. It is commonly reported around town that several others will be implicated before the affair is over. The Shrum woman Tuesday evening in the office of E. D. Anthony made a complete sworn confession of her part of the affair and on Wednesday morning Umfleet also confessed that he and the Shrum woman's son actually committed the deed. It is reported that several others were named in the confessions and that other arrests may be made any minute. Town is full of rumors and reports and there is scarcely anything else being talked on the streets. A preliminary trial has not been decided upon at time of going to press and under the circumstances the Democrat-News does not feel warranted in going further into the matter as we are unable to distinguish between rumor and fact.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

From last Thursday's St. Louis Republic: "Because of the rule of the Episcopal Church that bars the marriage of divorced persons, Mrs. Holmes Fuller, daughter of William H. Thomson, vice president of the Boatman's Bank, who at noon to-day will become the bride of Eugene M. Funsten, vice president of the R. E. Funsten Dried Fruit and Nut Company, will be married with the Unitarian ceremony. The Thomson family have been leading members of the Episcopal Church. The ceremony will be performed at the Thomson residence, 3905 Lindell boulevard, by Rev. John W. Day, of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah. Mrs. Fuller is a sister of Mrs. Charles Cummings Collins, of 29 Lenox place. Mrs. Fuller, who is 30 years old, formerly was the wife of Dr. A. G. Fuller, whom she divorced last November. Dr. Fuller maintained a private hospital in Montana, and in her divorce petition she alleged he forced her to perform menial tasks. Mrs. Fuller did not meet Mr. Funsten until three months ago, and the engagement has existed for two weeks. She says she did not tell her family until two days ago of her intention to wed a second time. After the ceremony the couple will depart for the East for a month's honeymoon trip, after which they will return and live in the Funsten residence at Webster Groves for the rest of the summer."

In Memoriam.

Died—At the residence of her son, Robert A. Rasche, Ironton, Mo., Saturday, June 6, 1914, at 12:20 A. M., after a protracted illness, Mrs. Anna Margaretha Rasche, relict of the late Henry Rasche, aged 74 years, 11 months and 3 days.

The subject of this brief memorial was born in Niederlingheim, Grossherzog, Germany, July 3, 1839, the daughter of Tobias and Christiana Dinger. The father emigrated to America in 1848, landing in New Orleans, and died during the cholera epidemic of that year. In 1852 the mother and three children came to this country, also by way of New Orleans; thence north to Evansville, Indiana, and from there to Ste. Genevieve county, finally settling at Pilot Knob in 1854. There Mrs. Dinger lived until her death, 1884.

Mrs. Rasche had one sister, who is Mrs. Agnes Scher of 1933 Piggott ave., East St. Louis, Ill., and one brother, the late Franz Dinger. She was twice married, and to each union were born four children. Her second marriage was to Henry Rasche, July 25, 1872. Four children to these marriages still survive, viz: Mrs. Annie Backof, Mrs. Amelia Schuster and Mr. Robert A. Rasche, of Ironton, and Mr. Frank W. Rasche of Festus, Mo. She leaves, beside these, fourteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren to mourn her decease.

Mrs. Rasche was a faithful wife and loving mother; always ready to sacrifice self to the welfare of others. Her life was one of devotion to duty; her children surviving bear witness to her careful, intelligent training and guidance. They are worthy members of the community, living in the esteem of those who know them. Better heritage parent may not bequeath to child.

The remains were taken to the Arcadia Convent Chapel, and thence, after the solemn and impressive Catholic funeral rite, conveyed to their final resting place in the old Pilot Knob cemetery, attended by a large concourse of relatives, friends and neighbors. Peace be to her ashes!

Card of Thanks.

We wish to return our sincere thanks to the good people of Ironton and the Arcadia Valley for the watchful care and kindness shown to our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Anna Margaretha Rasche, in her prolonged illness. And for the sweet sympathy extended to us since her death. And for the lavish and beautiful floral offerings. Long will we cherish the memory of you all. CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN. Ironton, Mo., June 9, 1914.

For Sale—Three Fine Jersey Milch Cows, three years old past. One family horse; one rubber-tired buggy, one three year-old filly, broke; nine hogs and one Hampshire brood sow. C. D. ALEXANDER.

Baptist Church Notes.

Next Sunday, Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. No preaching in the forenoon. Young People's meeting 7 P. M. Services at eight o'clock, conducted by the young men of the Junior Agog class.

Burk and Hobbs in Flat River. (Lead Belt News.) The Burk and Hobbs revivals in full swing and literally hundreds of people are in attendance at every one of the services. Already the auditors are going early—very early to secure seats of vantage.

Thursday it was found necessary to enlarge the seating capacity by the addition of several benches of improvised benches and a big sprinkling of chairs until to-day the seating capacity is 2500 persons.

The loyal Christians of the community have generously and unstintingly given their aid in arranging and re-arranging the physical comforts of the tent and surroundings until almost every facility has been added that will be of benefit in handling comfortably the enormous crowds that come and are coming.

The spirit of the service is already asserting itself in an insistent demand upon the part of citizens of Desloge and Bonne Terre that a special train be run north to Bonne Terre two or three evenings a week after services close at night. A delegation was here Wednesday to take up the matter with local committees and interested parties to encourage the M. R. & B. T. R'y in the movement of passengers north after the services at least one or two evenings each week.

The services opened Sunday evening with Rev. Hobbs in the pulpit. The evening's service was well attended and each succeeding service was a revelation in attendance until Tuesday when Steve Burk, the preaching evangelist, took the pulpit. Things began to move then and last night's crowd filled the tent and almost seemed to crowd the outside.

It is not possible to describe the evangelist's power no more than it is man's personal appearance. The really essential thing is that "he knows how" to conduct a revival and he does it in a purely Steve Burk manner. He is an awfully plain fellow. Purely plain. He sometimes may effect a white collar and a crease in his trousers but during this weather it's merely a matter of a fleeting moment. He is plain and of the plainness that gets results and that is bottomed upon a devotion to a cause that is greater than any man. He uses slang, he sometimes forgets grammar and he frequently shocks the timid. However he absolutely gets results wherever he goes. He knows how and his auditors know he does.

Steve Burk is not the only member of the firm or family of Burk and Hobbs, because, take it from the writer, Hobbs is also along. Burk can talk and Burk can make John Bunney's expressions look like a mummy, but Hobbs, the suave diplomat, can come nearer taking a bunch of "has bees" and "will bees" and mould them into a choir as well as a militant gospel force than any man who ever read the name of Flat River on a railroad folder. It's a team and a team of winners. Everybody will know it soon.

Burk and Hobbs have just closed a series of services at Kingsfisher, Ok.; over 600 were converted. Four "Gospel Bands" were organized and the work of converting others continues with pleasing advancement.

Des Arc Items.

Everything is drying up down here, and it seems to be general every where.

I was down at Charleston and Sikeston last week. Called on Stevenson & Fitz. Farmers are cutting wheat down there and early corn is looking well. The water melons are growing fine. The drought does not effect that country very much. Stevenson & Fitz report business good, but could be better. The Farmington stores are doing very well. The Farmington Mercantile Co. say their business ran $600 better for May than it did the same month last year. I was through the lead belt Saturday. Met my old friend, John Norman. He is doing a good business; was formerly a Des Arc merchant and married here. I
